Yura! Welcome to North Stradbroke Island (Minjerribah), home of the Quandamooka people. Known as Straddie by the locals, it is the second largest sand island in the world and is only an hour’s drive from Brisbane and 90 minutes from the Gold Coast. Access from Cleveland on the mainland is by Stradbroke Ferries passenger ferry (45 minutes) or vehicle ferry (25 minutes).

North Stradbroke Island is known for clean, spectacular white sandy beaches; magnificent inland lakes; breathtaking scenic walks and friendly, passionate locals. A place to reconnect with friends and family to make memories you will cherish forever. Straddie is also part of the humpback superhighway during June – November each year. No matter what kind of experience you want, Straddie has something for everyone.

Great outdoors

Spend your time outdoors four-wheel-driving, sand boarding, surfing or exploring the many beaches during the days and gazing up at an expanse of stars that will leave you breathless at night. Whether you camp, glamp or stay in one of the many different accommodation options on the island, there is so much to do and see!

Family fun

Straddie is a place where generations come together to disconnect from their busy lives and reconnect with each other.

Food and drink

Extended lunches gazing out at amazing island vistas, sun downers from the balcony of your accommodation, a picnic on one of the spectacular beaches or parks. There are a variety of cafés and restaurants on Straddie, along with some great shops and local produce perfect for however you want to entertain and enjoy your time on the island.

Relax and Unwind

If you want to relax and unwind there are many beautiful beaches that are ideal for a refreshing dip or a long walk. The North Gorge is a perfect place to take your time and drink in the amazing views or browse the local markets or boutique shops. Enjoy ‘island time’ while on Straddie.

Short but Sweet

Jump on a passenger ferry and spend the day on Straddie. You can explore Dunwich (Goompi), the cultural heart of the island or head out to Point Lookout (Mulumba) and walk the Gorge Walk (a must do when you are on Straddie) and have a gelati or bite to eat at one of the island cafés.

Gorge is a perfect place to take your time and drink in the amazing views or browse the local markets or boutique shops. Enjoy ‘island time’ while on Straddie.

Riviera North Stradbroke Island acknowledges the traditional owners of the country on which we work, live and visit and their connection to land, sea and community. We pay our respects to them and their kind of magic on Straddie.

Straddie Essentials

Four-wheel-driving
There are many great off-road tracks and beaches on Straddie. Be sure to check with Minjerribah Camping which tracks are open during your stay, and if you are driving on the beach make sure to grab a permit together with their Beach Driving Tips & Info flyer. Beach Access Permits can be purchased either monthly or yearly so you can come back again and again.

Bringing your Fur Baby
Whilst Straddie has pet friendly places for you to enjoy your time away with your poops, to travel to the island you need to ensure your pet is inside your vehicle whilst on the ferry or wearing a muzzle outside your vehicle or on the passenger ferry. Once on the island, there are on-leash beaches, pet friendly accommodation and some cafes that allow you to bring your dog but please be mindful of others and clean up after your pet. To protect our island wildlife, please keep your fur baby close at night.

Fishing
Straddie is a great place to wet a line. All three townships have places for fishing, whether you do so from the beach, jetty, boat or rock wall, and please make sure to do so only if it is safe and do not leave bait or fishing line behind.

Rubbish
Straddie is home to pristine beaches and natural beauty. The people that call it home and those that love to visit again and again take pride in the island and we ask you do the same. Dispose of rubbish correctly – don’t destroy what you came to enjoy. Make the most of your time on Straddie but as the saying goes, leave only footprints, take only photos.

How you can help us to keep Caring for Straddie:

- Insist on a calico bag or biodegradable plastic bag OR bring your own.
- Take a Pocket Ashtray with you when you go travelling around the island.
- Take your rubbish back with you to where you are staying and place your recyclable materials in the recycling bins provided.
- Adopt a minimal impact approach – leave only footprints, take only photos!

Caring for Lakes and Streams:

- Because the lakes and waterways of North Stradbroke Island are not regularly flushed, they are particularly sensitive to pollution and an artificial increase in nutrients.
- Never use soap, toothpaste or detergents in the waterways as these promote the growth of algae and affect the purity of the water and aquatic life. Take water at least 50 metres from the shore to wash dishes or shower.
- Powered craft are NOT permitted on Brown Lake or Blue Lake.

“Summer or winter, get amongst it or away from it all; Straddie is the perfect place to have the time of YOUR life.”

On the 4th of April 2018 the Gold Coast Commonwealth Games began. Celebrated local artist Delvene Cockatoo-Collins created both the prize and commemorative medals. Delvene’s studio – Made on Minjerribah, is located in Dunwich (Goompi).

Dunwich (Goompi) is the cultural heart of the island and the arrival point for all visitors to the island.

Immerse yourself in the rich Aboriginal and European history of the island by visiting the North Stradbroke Island Historical Museum on Minjerribah. There is also a gallery, studio and some boutique shops along with cafes and restaurants for something to eat or drink.

Once you have spent time exploring Dunwich head east along Alfred Martin Way to Brown Lake (Bummiera), North Stradbroke Island Golf Club and Blue Lake (Gabura).

Brown Lake (Bummiera) is a great spot for a picnic and a refreshing dip in the tea tree soaked fresh water. It does wonders for your skin and hair.

Blue Lake (Gabura) is a hidden oasis set 2.5km inland from the road. Make sure to take water as you must walk to the lake, but it is well worth the hike.

Another location worth a visit is Myora Springs (Capembah). Keep an eye out on your left as you head towards Point Lookout or Amity Point. The freshwater spring has been running for thousands of years and is a popular watering hole for some of the island’s wildlife.

Why we love this place

Dunwich (Goompi), home of the mighty Straddie Sharks and many talented locals, has lots to see and do. Don’t drive through without taking time to explore some of the shops, beaches or lakes!

Did you know?
The historic Dunwich Cemetery is one of the oldest cemeteries in Queensland. The oldest graves date back to 1850, the first year of the Dunwich Quarantine Station, when the ship Emigrant arrived with a typhus epidemic aboard. This resulted in the deaths of Dr Ballow, Dr Mitchell and 26 immigrants. It is estimated that there are more than 9000 graves in the cemetery – many graves are unmarked.

The Rufus King was a 10,000 ton American Liberty Ship that floundered off North Stradbroke Island in July 1942. During poor weather, the ship sank within minutes, taking with it the lives of 268 crew, nurses, medical orderlies and ambulance men. Residents at Point Lookout heard the explosion and saw a bright flash out to sea.

In 1827, under the command of Captain Rous, the Rainbow was the first ship of war to enter Moreton Bay. In recognition of Rous’s survey work, Stradbroke Island was named after Rous’s father, the first Earl of Stradbroke, and Dunwich after Captains Rous’s elder brother, Viscount Dunwich. In 1998 the Sixth Earl of Stradbroke, with his wife, Countess Rosie, attended the first official opening of North Stradbroke Island Historical Museum.

At 4:10am on 14 May 1943, the Australian Hospital Ship Centaur, with 332 people on board was torpedoed by a Japanese submarine about 23 miles east of Point Lookout. The resulting explosion was so great that the Centaur sank within minutes, taking with it the lives of 268 crew, nurses, medical orderlies and ambulance men. Residents at Point Lookout heard the explosion and saw a bright flash out to sea.

Take a step back in time ... Amity Point is the perfect place to have a picnic or BBQ and watch the sunset over the bay as the dolphins swim by and the birds flock in the trees that line the shore.

Why we love this place

Amity Point (Pulan) is located about 15kms (15 minute drive) from Dunwich. Amity’s appeal begins with its relaxing ambience: sandy beaches, shaded shores and easy access to Moreton Bay. There are no surf beaches at Amity, which makes it perfect for fishing, boating and snorkelling. The large swimming enclosure provides a safe place to swim and the flat leafy streets are great to walk or ride around to explore.

For the wildlife enthusiast, Amity’s “locals” include friendly pelicans, cute koalas and wild dolphins. Koalas can often be spotted sleeping in the gum trees surrounding the swimming enclosure and local streets, and you might get a visit from a wild dolphin off the jetty at dawn or dusk but please do not feed them.

On 11 March 1847, the Sovereign attempted the South Passage on route to Sydney. The treacherous weather engulfed the vessel and it was soon a wreck. The few survivors were saved by local Amity Point indigenous people, one of which was King Billy Toompani, who assisted in the rescue of 40 people.

Accommodation ranges from modern, beachfront holiday houses to cabins, cottages and units, or you can bring your caravan or tent to the local campgrounds, which are only a short walk to the water’s edge. Access to Flinders Beach camping area is via Sovereign Road. 4WD beach permits must be obtained from Minjerribah Camping prior to driving on the beach.

The quiet, laidback ambience of Amity Point makes it a perfect place for picnics, throwing in a line or going for a relaxing swim, and it’s the perfect place to unwind and get back to basics. The sunsets at Amity Point are incredible so make sure to sit back and watch Mother Nature put on a show.

Make sure to take time to walk the North Gorge, one of the best vantage points for spotting marine life on Straddie. The scenery as you walk the 1.2km boardwalk is spectacular!

Point Lookout (Mulumba) is located about 18kms (18 minute drive) from Dunwich and is a coastal town rich in natural beauty that will take your breath away.

Situated at the north-eastern tip of the island, this coastal township is a series of beaches and headlands which can be easily explored by foot. Don’t miss the stunning beauty of the North Gorge walk with its breathtaking views across the Pacific Ocean. The walk is the perfect year-round vantage point for spotting turtles, dolphins and manta rays, and between June and November, one of the best spots on the East Coast to watch the annual migration of the majestic humpback whales.

When you’re trying to find the perfect beach for swimming, exploring or relaxing, Point Lookout absolutely spoils you for choice. There are two beaches that are patrolled by lifeguards daily – Cylinder and Main Beach – both offering superb swimming and surfing.

To every foodie’s delight, there is an impressive selection of eateries, restaurants and cafés to choose from. Whether it’s gelati on the beach, fish n’ chips with a view or an à la carte dining experience, Point Lookout has plenty of tasty options.

For boutique shopping there is a range of shops and studios at Point Lookout with an eclectic collection of keepsakes and handmade wares. Make sure to check the dates of the Point Lookout markets when you are on the island, they are held at the Point Lookout Bowls Club and are another opportunity to take a piece of Straddie home with you.

Relax, dine, swim, explore beautiful Point Lookout, the little coastal village that has some of the most spectacular ocean views in the world, without the crowds.
There are many options when staying on Straddie. Choose from resorts, cottages, apartments or holiday houses, including pet friendly options.

Whale Watching

North Stradbroke Island (Minjerribah) is an ideal destination for seeing the mighty humpback up close during June – October each year. Whether by land or by sea it is truly an experience you won’t soon forget. The North Gorge headland at Point Lookout is considered one of the best land-based whale watching sites in the world, not only because it is right next to the “whale highway”, but also because it is only 35 metres above sea level, making it a prime viewing platform.

Alternatively, Yalingbila Tours offers guests the first ever Aboriginal owned Whale Cruise, allowing guests the unique opportunity to view whales (Yalingbila) from the sea whilst also learning about the connection the Quandamooka people have with the animals and marine life that inhabit their lands and sea. The whales travel north past the headland early in the season as they make their way to the calving grounds around the Whitsundays and Hervey Bay. As the year moves on, they return south to their home in the Antarctic, this time with their new babies in tow.

Whale watchers marvel as hundreds of these majestic creatures swim by, often performing for their audience as they throw their massive bodies from the water in spectacular breaches or slam the water with powerful tail slaps and create waterspouts with their “blows” as they surface.

1. The Blow
   This is usually the first sign of whales in the distance or at close range and it appears above the surface of the water like a blast of steam. This occurs when a whale expels its breath through the blowholes on the top of its head. They release the air up to a speed of 450 kilometres an hour, that can also reach up to 5 metres in height making it visible from a distance of around 2 kilometres.

2. Footprints
   Whales leave a greasy film on the surface of the water – this slick area is known as a footprint. This mark is left from the flukes on the whale’s tail, from the downward stroke in their swimming motion.

3. Breaching
   This is the most spectacular manoeuvre. With two or three beats of its tail, the whale pushes itself into the air throwing itself backwards creating a tremendous slap and splash as its body hits the water.

4. Spy Hopping
   Whales are very inquisitive creatures, and it is common for them to poke their heads vertically out of the water and have a good look around!

5. Pectoral Fin Extension
   This move will create waves! The whales will wave their fins whilst lying on their back, slapping their fins onto the surface of the water.

6. Tail Slap
   This move involves slapping the tail fluke down flat on the water – this can be heard for many kilometres and is a way of communicating position to other whales.

7. Peduncle Slap
   The peduncle is the muscular part of the body nearest to the tail flukes. In this movement the tail is slapped in a sideways motion like a karate chop. It is believed to be a sure sign of aggression.

LAKES

Blue Lake & Eighteen Mile Swamp

Blue Lake (Gabura) and Eighteen Mile Swamp are freshwater lakes fed from a vast underground aquifer. Blue Lake National Park’s Aboriginal name is Gabura, meaning ‘silent pool’ and offers a quiet haven for visitors who come to appreciate its natural beauty. The lake is accessible by foot only and is a 5 kilometre round trip walk. Make sure you remember to take comfortable shoes, a water bottle and a hat as there are no facilities at Blue Lake.

Brown Lake

Brown Lake (Bummeria) gets its name from the colour of the water. The clear tea’ colour comes from the surrounding tea trees and reeds. The natural bushland surrounding the lake is home to many delicate wildflowers, including small ground orchids. Brown Lake is also special because it is a perched lake, meaning that it sits above the water table in a depression where the accumulated vegetation forms an impervious layer to hold water. Brown Lake is easily accessible by conventional vehicle and has amenities such as picnic tables, wood-fired BBQs and a composting toilet.

A little known fact

Both Brown Lake (Bummeria) and Blue Lake (Gabura) are very sacred to the Quandamooka people, being the home of an extraordinarily huge carpet snake – jargon snake spirit yuri Kabool. Its spirit resides in both lakes with this jargon attributed with being able to travel from one lake to another.
Surf Safety

BE AWARE OF RIPS

A rip is a strong current running out to sea on a surf beach. It can easily take swimmers from shallow waters up to several metres offshore in a short period of time.

Some important points to remember are:
1. Swim only at beaches patrolled by lifesavers / lifeguards and obey all instructions.
2. The red and yellow flags indicate the safest place to swim – do not swim outside the flags where rips may occur.
3. Take note of what flags are flying and be aware of the beach conditions.
4. A RED flag on its own indicates EXTREME DANGER – NEVER enter the water on a red flag.
5. If you do get caught in a rip – remain calm, raise one arm in the air, float and wait for help to arrive – DON’T PANIC.
6. To escape a rip, swim diagonally across the rip, don’t try and swim against it.
7. If you are unsure of the conditions, ask a lifesaver or lifeguard – they are there to help you.

Fishing

‘GOOD TIMES HAPPEN ON THE TIDES’

From the rock wall and jetty located at Amity Point to Jumpinpin, the stretch of uninterrupted beach running from the southern tip of the island to Point Lookout, the fishing options are limitless. The 20 metre deep Rainbow Channel, situated off Amity Point, is ideal for tuna and mackerel, whereas foreshore fishing is available everywhere from Main Beach at Point Lookout to Flinders Beach just near Amity Point. Main Beach is also your best chance of catching your own bait including pipis and beach worms.

Fishing, especially rock fishing, can be dangerous.
Never fish by yourself. Fish in a group of at least three within sight of each other. If someone is washed in, one person can stay and help while the other alerts emergency services (dial 000). You can also dial 112 from your mobile phone to access emergency services.

Inform others of your plans
Wear light clothing
Wear appropriate footwear
Carry safety gear
Never fish in exposed areas during rough or large seas
Observe first, fish later
Plan an escape route in case you are washed in
Stay alert, never turn your back on the sea

Some important points to remember are:
1. Avoid rip currents, always swim between the red and yellow flags.
2. For everyone, stay calm, float and raise an arm to attract attention.
3. To escape a rip current, swim parallel to the beach.
4. Conserve your energy, wait to be picked up by a lifeguard.
5. You can also try and swim against the rip.
Marine Life

‘DARLING IT’S BETTER, DOWN WHERE IT’S WETTER, TAKE IT FROM ME.’

Dolphins
The waters surrounding North Stradbroke Island are home to both bottlenose and Indo-Pacific humpback dolphins and are visited by common and spinner dolphins. The area provides an abundance of bountiful foraging habitats for dolphins such as seagrass beds, mudflats, reefs and mangroves. Point Lookout has a large population of resident bottlenose dolphins which varies seasonally between 700–1000 individuals. They can be seen feeding, sleeping and riding the waves in Frenchman’s Bay and off Cylinder Beach. This is the largest reported population of bottlenose dolphins in the smallest area in the world. Norm’s Seat cliff-top observation point on the North Gorge walk at Point Lookout offers an excellent view of bottlenose and Indo-Pacific humpback dolphins playing and surfing the waves with the board riders.

Dugongs
Moreton Bay is a well-known marine park and is one of the few places in the world where large numbers of dugongs can be found. These captivating creatures inhabit shallow tropical waters and are listed as vulnerable to extinction by the World Conservation Union. There are believed to be 600 to 700 dugongs who call the Moreton Bay area home. Although very shy, these mammals can be seen around Amity Point or during the crossing to the island from the mainland.

Turtles
Green and loggerhead marine turtles inhabit the sub-tropical waters surrounding North Stradbroke Island. They are long living, taking up to 50 years to reach maturity. Turtles have separate locations for breeding and feeding and thus some turtles can travel from as far away as Papua New Guinea and New Caledonia to nest on Stradbroke Island. Female turtles come ashore between December and February to lay their eggs, something they can do up to four times a season! Frenchmen’s and Deadman’s beaches are usually the preferred location for turtle nesting. Moreton Bay is the only place in the world where turtles and dugongs still live on the doorstep of a major city.

Manta Rays
The manta ray is a graceful and acrobatic animal and is the largest of the rays. While closely related to the shark, the manta ray is harmless and usually relaxed around divers, often allowing an up close and personal experience! A noted site for divers and snorkellers is Manta Ray Bommie, just off Point Lookout, which is one of the best places to dive with manta rays in Brisbane and is mentioned by Queensland Tourism as one of Queensland’s top dive sites! Groups of three to four manta rays can usually be spotted during the summer months, when numerous rays converge on Manta Ray Bommie to be cleaned by smaller fish.

Why we love this place
Straddie really is this wonderful place where you can see dolphins, turtles, manta rays and even dugongs without the need of a boat or entry fee. During June to October you can even see whales as they pass by – growing in numbers each year from Point Lookout.

North Stradbroke Island is a fantastic location for spotting and observing marine life. From the ferry crossing to the North Gorge walk, visitors to Straddie can see dolphins, whales, dugongs, manta rays and turtles. The best viewing points are located along the headlands and are all within walking distance of accommodation properties at both Amity Point and Point Lookout.
Wildlife

Due to the isolated nature of the island, it is home to some rare and uncommon species with fascinating genetic distinctions.

Wildlife

Birdlife
Look for seabirds such as crested terns, short-tailed shearwaters, pied cormorants, lesser frigate birds, Australasian gannets and noddis feeding in the waters around the headland. The majestic white-bellied sea eagle, the whistling kite with its shrill call, and the distinctive rust brown and white brahminy kite are a few of the birds-of-prey commonly seen gliding over the shoreline and headlands in search of small mammals, crabs and fish. And of course, Australia’s iconic kookaburra with its distinctive laugh, might be found sitting on the balcony of your accommodation or near the island’s eateries.

Goannas
This magnificent lizard which grows up to a metre in length can often be seen on warm days basking happily in the sun. Their prey can include all manner of smaller reptiles, young birds, eggs, snakes and mammals. Meals are often eaten whole; thus the size of their meals may depend on the size of the animals.

Kangaroos and Wallabies
Grey kangaroos can sometimes be seen feeding on the grass around the North Gorge walk in the early morning and late afternoon. They are accustomed to seeing people and, if observed quietly, a range of their behaviours can be enjoyed at close quarters. Patience is needed to spot the rarer and extremely shy Golden Stradbroke Wallaby. This wallaby is a uniquely coloured variety of the swamp wallaby which only occurs on North and South Stradbroke Islands.

Koalas
North Stradbroke Island has its own population of koalas, found near the western swamps, Swan Bay area and around all of the townships. Koala habitat is protected and managed closely to ensure this unique population is preserved.

Other native animals
There are many other island vertebrate species that are rated as being biologically important. These include the agile wallaby, water mouse, the skink (anomalopus truncates) and the acid frogs. Straddie is a wildlife wonderland!

Why we love this place
Straddie is home to an abundance of wildlife. There is no need to visit a zoo to see the Aussie icons – they spend their days roaming the streets and grazing in the headland parks or grassed areas, or hanging out in the trees.
The annual Quandamooka Festival is a great opportunity to become immersed in one of the oldest living cultures on earth. Experience the continuing culture of the Nughij, Nunukul and Goenpul clans of Quandamooka. Major Events include:

- Yura (Welcome) ceremony
- Winnan NAIDOC Kunjiel (Corroboree)
